

and we feel safe in saying, the entire brotherhood also: "Better a thousand unauthorized doctrinal numbers, each one containing as much crude theology as the last one, but open to discussion, than one carefully formulated creed with discussion closed." The doctrinal number of the Evangelist is distinctly the former.

Ashland College

Prof. L. L. Garber remains faithfully at his post of duty on College hill, during these vacation days writing College "ads" for the EVANGELIST, issuing the "Purple and Gold" and otherwise looking after the best interests of the college.

Prof. W. D. Furry is now busily engaged in his summer's work at Chicago University. Thru Mrs. Furry we learn that he is in good health and is enjoying his work.

Last week Prof. C. O. Witter wrote us from 339 S. Grant street, Bloomington, Indiana that he would be located there for the next six weeks. The Prof. is doing summer work in the University at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Witter left the hill last Thursday evening for Gebhart's, Pa. They will spend the summer with Mrs. Witter's parents and other friends. After the summer's vacation they expect to return to the college and resume their student duties for another year.

Prof. J. C. Beal is now at the Y. M. C. A. Student's Summer Conference at Lake Geneva, Wis. June 20-29. We are glad our college is represented there this year. Every college that has been represented at this Conference in the past has taken new spiritual life the following year as a direct result of the Conference work. The representatives at the Conference unanimously agree that the Conference experience is one of the greatest spiritual powers of their entire life. May it be so with our representative and our college.

We learned last week thru private channels that Dyoll Belote, J. C. Beal and George Carpenter accompanied by Rev. J. O. Talley of Chicago were touring Chicago. The boys report that Chicago was glad to see them. Brother Carpenter felt that such great spiritual help would come from attending the Geneva Conference, that as a Christian, he could not personally afford to miss it. We trust that Christ may so work thru the Conference and the young men in attendance that there may be an unusual spiritual awakening thru-out college circles during the entire college year.

Rev. Braker closed his evangelistic services at Mt. Zion last week and filled his regular appointment at Ankenytown last Sunday.

When last heard from, father and mother Bemberfer and family had reached their destination safely and were having a very enjoyable vacation among friends and relatives.

The vacation is on, life at the Dorm does not have the usual vacation quietness. Those who are remaining here during the summer or greater portion of it are Amy, Ruby and Goldie Rowland, Alma Moomaw, Mrs. W. D. Furry, Prof. L. L. Garber, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beal, Maude and Mr. and Mrs. Lichty. Thus far vacation has been spent by them in a very enjoyable and yet we trust in a very profitable manner.

Mrs. C. G. Philips accompanied by Julia and Ruth went to Hiram, Ohio last Tuesday morning. Mrs. Philips will spend six weeks in the conservatory of music at Hiram, under special instructions of Professor Eugene Feuchtinger, after which she will return to Ashland and resume her instructions in the musical department of the college when school opens. Prof. Feuchtinger is a celebrated and talented instructor. He is originally a graduate from Germany and returned only last year from Germany having taken special work. This speaks exceptionally well for Ashland college.

Our teachers think there is nothing too good for Ashland. With Furry in Chicago University, Witter in Indiana State University and Mrs. Philips at Hiram Conservatory, we challenge you to show us a school of more wide awake and up to date instructors. Make note of this, young people.

Publishers' Notes

Why last week's Evangelist was Late

Ever since State conference, we have been a little behind in our work. We observed last week that we had a choice of one of two things:

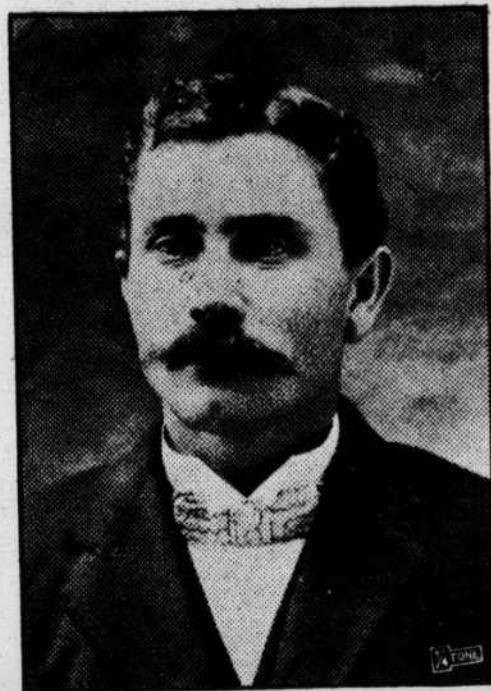

1. Either put the Quarterlies out so late that they would not likely reach the furthestest schools in time for proper distribution, or 2. supply these schools in ample time and mail the Evangelist two days late. We chose the second in order that we might best accommodate the vast army of S. S. workers, which also includes fraternally our Evangelist readers. We know that we disappoint hundreds of Evangelist readers every time we mail so late, but for the sake of the S. S., we beg your pardon for this one time.

Notice your receipt cards carefully

For every order for goods, and for every cash remittance of ten cents and over to this office an acknowledgement is made by a receipt postal card. Everyone doing business with this office will do us a great favor by carefully keeping all such cards for six months, at least. Often people ask us to extend their subscription one year on account. We do so and receipt them to that effect. Later on, occasionally, we find a person who gets it into his mind somehow that when he ordered his subscription extended he sent cash with the order and writes us to that effect. Our books show the matter otherwise and when we refer him to his receipt perhaps it is lost. You can easily see how he can be sure of one thing and we be sure of something of just the opposite. Read every receipt carefully. Notice whether it is correct in every particular. If not, please return it at once with your corrections. This will be for our mutual good. Just a little point of business—that's all.

Your Book Accounts

The Board is very grateful to its debtors for the very prompt-business like manner in which most of them attend to their accounts. This enables us very materially to care for our accounts in a much more satisfactory way than we formerly could do. You are coming to realize more and more that the success or failure of the Publishing House depends largely upon the attention you give your accounts. However, there are a few who disregard all notices, statements, etc., not even telling us when they think they can pay or whether they ever intend to pay. These same people would be the first and loudest to cry injustice if their account was turned over to an attorney for collection. Just a little over 30 days closes the business year for the Publishing House. We desire to have all accounts of over 60 days' standing settled by July 20. You, who have accounts of longer standing and who have had several statements, can't you please arrange to settle the same? Kindly make arrangements now to do so. You will greatly oblige the Board by so doing, and besides you will enable us to make a much better report of the year's business, than if you fail to attend to this matter.

Attention! Ministers and Church workers

The above cut represents one of the leading ministers of our church in the Middle West. Look at the cut carefully. Why can you not make your Publishing House a present of a cut of yourself? We could use cuts of our ministers and prominent church workers to a splendid advantage from time to time. And without any egotism you could use your own cut occasionally to equally as good advantage. This cut is a new process of work. This size or smaller costs you only $1 cash with order. It is called one fourth tone work. You who have no cuts and desire same, just send us a good photo of yourself and $1 and we will do the rest. Then when you write a sermon for the paper or send in a well written article for publication we can run your cut along with the article. Then too when you are called to rest, the brotherhood would be very glad to have your cut along with your obituary. Understand the cut will be your property. We will send it to you any time you wish. You can easily see how this will cost each of you only a little money and yet you get full value for your money. Yet if the Pub. House would pay all these bills it would mean at least a couple hundred dollars. These little things will help us very much to give you a more interesting paper. Try it.

Have your Quarterlies reached you?

All orders for Quarterlies that had reached this office prior to June 21 were mailed on June 20 and 21. If your Quarterlies have not reached you before this paper does, notify us at once, so we may supply you. All orders received from Monday morning on during the week will receive prompt and careful attention. But the schools must not blame us if they do not receive their Quarterlies early, when their orders are placed at such a late date. At least one third of the schools had not placed their order yet on June 23.

Doctrinal Evangelist Extra Supply Exhausted

The extra supply of "Doctrinal Evangelist" has been completely exhausted. We can fill no more orders. We are very glad this number met with such hearty approval. Now that the papers are all taken, we thank you for your very liberal patronage and trust that the edition may aid materially in advancing the kingdom of God. Special gratitude is extended to the list of contributors who aided the editor in issuing the number.
